LADIES' TAILORED AND SILK WAISTS

Our new shirt waist department gives us much more room to display our stock, and our large increase in sales proves that our efforts to have the waists the trade want and the kind that fit, has been fully appreciated. We are continually adding new numbers to the line, thus as fast as the old numbers are closed we have the new ones to take their places, keeping a full stock at all times. Our lace curtain department right beside the waists gives us a good light place to display them and plenty of room.

Value of the District Nurse.
Among the most practical of municipal philanthropies are the associations of district nurses. They relieve a great deal of suffering and give proper direction to treatment of the sick, especially among the poor or ignorant, who are at a loss how to proceed in that important and delicate duty. The report of the Providence association at its tenth annual meeting shows more than 51,000 cases in that city that have been attended by its members during the past twelve months, an increase of more than 13,000 over last year. That measures a large increase of helpfulness for those who need it. The value of women's clubs is sometimes questioned, but probably they, more than any other organization, are responsible for the district nurse. Some of them in our own city practically support these representations of their sympathy and philanthropy.—Boston Transcript.
